The Changing Face of Poverty: Can Africa Surprise the World?
Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala, Zoe Marks | Harvard Kennedy School's Institute of Politics
"As Africa develops dramatically, the set of challenges it faces changes too. Can the continent secure a prosperous future through i.a. good macroeconomic management and focus on emerging technologies?"

The Elusive Sovereign
Philip Pettit | University of Toronto Law
"Does a conception of the law like H.L.A.Hart's allow us to postulate a sovereign in the legal regime? Is it consistent with thinking that there is one supreme authority over the law? Or does his decentered model of the polity make no room for the idea of sovereignty? Surprisingly, it turns out that the idea of sovereignty can find a natural home within a mixed or decentered set of legal arrangements."

The Future of Money in the Digital Age
Marcus Brunnermeier | The Peterson Institute for International Economics
"Will private digital money drive out cash? Will central banks lose their grip on monetary policy?"

The Future of Mobility
Robert Llewellyn | The Royal Institution
"What will the future of space travel look like? How to impact systemic change that is needed to make self-driving cars ubiquitous?"

Would a "Wealth Tax" Help Combat Inequality?
Emmanuel Saez, Lawrence Summers, Gregory Mankiw | The Peterson Institute for International Economics
"Emmanuel Saez, a leading architect of the 'wealth tax' plans advocated by Senators Elizabeth Warren and Bernie Sanders, outlined his proposals at the PIIE conference. Lawrence Summers delivered a tough critique of [his] proposals. He was joined in the criticism by Gregory Mankiw."

The Dollar Hegemon? Evidence and Implications for Policy Makers
Pierre-Olivier Gourinchas | Banque de France
"We live in the world dominated by the dollar and this domination has never been stronger. What are the consequences for international trade and globalization?"

Capital Is Dead: Is This Something Worse?
McKenzie Wark, Natasha Lennard | Verso Books
"It's not capitalism, it's not neoliberalism-what if it's something worse? In this radical and visionary new book, McKenzie Wark argues that information has empowered a new kind of ruling class. Through the ownership and control of information, this emergent class dominates not only labour but capital as traditionally understood as well."

Zoological Surrealism: The Nonhuman Cinema of Jean Painlevé
James Cahill | TIFF Talks
"Before Jacques-Yves Cousteau, there was Jean Painlevé. Trained at the Sorbonne in the natural sciences and engaged with the aesthetic avant-gardes of his era, Painlevé combined a scientist's eye with a Surrealist's sensibility to produce a cinematic bestiary of over 200 films that broke ground in the fields of scientific cinema, nature films, and experimental media."
Democracy in Decline: After Local Media Disappears, What Comes Next?
Matt Gertz | KODX Seattle

“Can democracy as we know it survive without a culture of independent investigative journalism? The panel delves into the rise of media conglomerates trafficking in partisan broadcasting, and explore strategies for supporting and sustaining a local media that’s relevant for 21st century America.”
